Fieldwork Photography Forum is a two-day event of talks, lectures and workshops at the University of Central Lancashire (UCLan) in Preston on Thursday 12 and Friday 13 November.

The Forum will showcase the work of photography practitioners and will feature debates on a range of topics regarding contemporary issues and practices. It will be based in the heart of UCLan's Preston campus in the Media Innovation Suite (room 414, fourth floor of the Media Factory).

The event is part of The Great Northern Creative Festival which is organised by the School of Film, Media and Performance.
