Sir Tom Finney

Born in Preston
April 5, 1922

Tom Finney played 433 league games for Preston scoring 187 goals. For all but two of the seasons he played at Deepdale when Preston were in the first division.

In addition Finney played 76 times for England and scored 30 goals. He was a genuine two-footed player, packing an explosive shot in either his right or his left. He had speed, balance, was a pin-point passer and, for a man of no great height, could head with awesome power. Whilst Finney's ability was great, many will remember him for his gentlemanly conduct on the pitch which ensured he never received a booking throughout his entire career.

When he was offered the opportunity to sign for Preston North End (PNE), his father insisted that he complete his apprenticeship in the family's plumbing business before signing as a professional. This led to one of his nicknames, the 'Preston Plumber'.

He was also voted the Footballer of the Year in both 1954 and 1957.

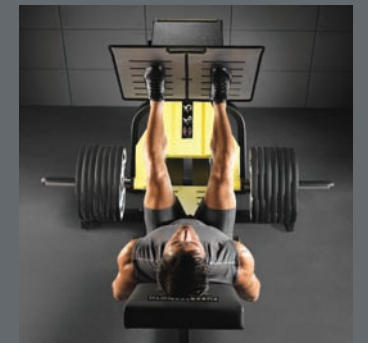

Sir Tom Finney is Preston's most famous sporting son. He is a football legend and strong supporter of the City of Preston. We are proud and delighted to name this fabulous facility after him.
